

LIMERICK JAZZ FESTIVAL

Limerick Jazz Festival is a four day Jazz music festival which takes place in multiple live music venues throughout the city of Limerick. Celebrating its seventh year, Limerick Jazz Festival proudly presents some of the finest local, national and international Jazz musicians for a fantastic four days of top quality live music.

Limerick Jazz will be presenting an eclectic mixture of outstanding Irish and International Jazz musicians and a programme of events that combines quality, accessibility and great value for money.

Limerick Jazz Festival 2018 is organised and promoted by the all-volunteer organisation Limerick Jazz and is supported by Limerick City and County Council and the Arts Council of Ireland. Limerick Jazz has been bringing outstanding Jazz performances to the city of Limerick for over 35 years, ensuring that Limerick has one of the most active Jazz scenes in Ireland. As well as Limerick Jazz Festival, Limerick Jazz also promotes and holds regular Spring and Autumn concert seasons and provides Jazz Education classes through its hugely successful Limerick Jazz Workshops.

FRI JULIAN SIEGEL QUARTET 28th DOLANS UPSTAIRS @ 10.30pm

With the Julian Siegel Quartet, the BBC Jazz Award winning saxophonist and composer Julian Siegel has chosen to work with some of this generation's most distinctive voices to create an in-demand Quartet on the UK and European Jazz scene. The band features inspirational pianist Liam Noble, his fluid touch and dazzling imagination perfectly complementing Siegel's music and playing, and providing a perfect foil for the many directions the music can turn. With the creative spark of dynamic drummer Gene Calderazzo and the deep groove of bassist Oli Hayhurst dove-tailing perfectly with Siegel and Noble this is unquestionably one of the UK's most exciting and powerful quartets.

This new acoustic set of music moves freely through varied sound worlds and colours, from undercurrents of pop to searching ballads and joyful melodies.

JIM DOHERTY QUINTET
"TENOR MADNESS"

Jim Doherty has been at the forefront of Irish jazz for over 50 years and has played with some of the greatest names in jazz from all over the world in that time. His longtime partnership with the great guitarist Louis Stewart came to an untimely end in August 2016 when Louis sadly passed away. As a most respected performer, arranger and composer he has fronted many bands. Jim will bring his quintet TENOR MADNESS to Dolans Warehouse which features some of the Ireland's best, names like Richie Buckley, Dave Fleming, Brendan Doyle, Dominic Mullen and of course Jim himself. Be prepared for an hugely entertaining afternoon of high calibre jazz.

DOLANS WAREHOUSE Start 2.30pm

Aoife Doyle's unique, expressive voice is equally at home with jazz, folk, country, bluegrass and blues, and her singing can evoke memories of the sophisticated, velvet tones of Ella Fitzgerald, the earthy, sweet lyricism of Patsy Cline or the straight-up country clarity of Alison Krauss. In 2013 she released her first solo album 'This Time the Dreams on Me', a collection of songs with unique arrangements. In recent years Aoife has stepped into the role of composer and in June 2017 she released her first album of original music 'Clouds' to critical acclaim. Aoife is without doubt one of the finest talents in Ireland today, she will be joined by a superb band 'The Limerick Jazz Quintet' who in their own right are some of the best musicians this city has to offer.
